

TALKING POINT...

TRUE STORIES: CHOSEN

Tue 10pm More4

This documentary addresses the shocking subject of sexual abuse of boys by teachers in private schools.

Acclaimed film-maker Brian Woods treats his three subjects with great sensitivity, allowing them to discuss their experiences of abuse, and their fight for justice.

'After talking to Tom, Alastair and Mark (above) for an hour I was convinced this was a film that had to be made,' explains Brian. 'Not only did they have a tale of injustice to tell, they had remarkable insights into how they were groomed and how the events shaped the rest of their lives. The three different outcomes to their attempts to seek justice offer the perfect ending to the story.'
